

Services for Muslim women

Australian Muslim Women's Centre for Human Rights
Equality without Exception

The Australian Muslim Women's Centre for Human Rights provides respectful and confidential individual services for Muslim women, including newly arrived refugee and migrant Muslim women.

Our specialised team offers advocacy, advice and referrals to help with:

- Family relationships
- Cultural & emotional support
- Health & wellbeing, including mental health support
- Parenting support & child wellbeing
- English language learning & employment pathways
- Legal support
- Housing support
- Material aid (halal food boxes)

We can support you by:

- Giving you information about available support services
- Organising appointments and attending with you
- Speaking to services on your behalf
- Advocating for your rights and needs
- Referring you for specialised services

Contact us at:

Phone (03) 9481 3000

Email: intake@amwchr.org.au

Website: amwchr.org.au

Our service is free and confidential.
We have a team of multilingual caseworkers & can access interpreters
if needed